ProAmpac is a global manufacturer of flexible packaging products. Headquartered in Cincinnati, Ohio, ProAmpac operates 50 manufacturing sites globally and employs approximately 6,400 people. Our mission is driven by our guiding principles: Integrity, Intensity, Innovation, Involvement, and Impact.

What we do

At ProAmpac, we have one of the broadest range of flexible packaging capabilities in the industry. We're vertically integrated, producing our own blown film and recycled paper. Our manufacturing includes extrusion and adhesive lamination, coating, and almost every type of pre-made pouch and bag in the market. For customers requiring printed products, we offer award-winning flexographic, rotogravure and UV printing technology. We also support our products with an experienced field-based technical service team.

The Whole Package

The Collaboration and Innovation Center (CIC) plays an important role in accelerating both ProAmpac's and our customer's material and package development. Our capabilities include package design and graphics development, prototyping, shelf stability, physical and analytical testing, as well as application testing on form fill seal (FFS) equipment. This allows our customers to bring new products to market with speed.

Why ProAmpac

Innovation through material science plays a crucial role in advancing technology, improving product performance, and addressing various global challenges. We utilize the latest technologies to understand and improve our packaging – so you get the optimized package your business deserves.
